Who We Are

Hi-Cube Global Mining and Properties Limited is a fast-growing company in Nigeria, engaging in the mining and exploration of earthly resources in the most sustainable way. From planning to execution, our team of professionals strives to deliver value-oriented solutions. Geotechnical, environmental, hydrological, geological, and survey disciplines are all part of our specialized services. We provide all aspects of mine development, from reconnaissance and exploration through building and operations, and finally closure and decommissioning.

In addition to impacting lives through our competent mining and exploration services, we also provide construction, real estate development, advisory, and facilities management services. We design, construct and manage residential and commercial properties. Hi-Cube seeks to improve the quality of conducting business, economic infrastructure development, the construction of luxury residential and commercial buildings at cost-effective prices, and giving back to the community. Our passion and desire will always be to adopt effective methods and unique ideas that would improve the narrative of Nigeria's current status quo. And to be well-positioned to deliver superior services to both domestic and international investors by continually providing value and absolute quality.

Hi-Cube's ability to properly implement business plans in our extensive sphere of activities is a consequence of our devoted and skilled team's combined decades of expertise. While upholding industry standards, the team works to meet and exceed customer expectations.

We strive to maintain synergies that benefit our valued clients and stakeholders. This drives us to seek out credible partners that share our vision in order to develop distinctive and appealing projects that adhere to global best standards while also generating profitable returns for our stakeholders.

Corporate Statements

Our Values

Safety - In everything we do, safety is our priority.

Dignity and Respect - All workers are treated equally and given equal opportunities while creating a feeling of ownership.

Sustainability - Long-term resource development and expansion supported by a safe, successful, and socially responsible enterprise.

Collaboration - We value everyone and work together for the common good.

Excellence - A dedication to fostering a culture of best practices in the workplace.

Our Vision

To be a well-known mineral exploration and real estate management firm dedicated to growing sustainable projects while upholding our commitments to quality, and appreciating and developing our staff.

Our Mission

Establish and create long-term value for our stakeholders by implementing best operational practices and adhering to our commitment to safeguarding the health and well-being of our people as well as the environment in the communities where we operate.

Our Services

Mining & Exploration Services

From grassroots reconnaissance through mineral resource projections, project planning, and site design, Hi-Cube delivers a comprehensive spectrum of geology, mining engineering, and environmental services. We evaluate, plan, and conduct exploration programs to address essential geological issues while staying within cost limits.

A major mine's discovery, development, operation, and closure pose distinct environmental, logistical, and technological issues. We are well aware of these difficulties and are aware that mining projects are notoriously tough to build. Remote areas, high elevations, or pure environmental regions far from the point of export are also possibilities.

- Our dedication to workplace safety, environmental preservation, long-term growth, and compliance with local legislation and laws.
- Maximizing a development's value to local people is critical, as is ensuring that a project is completed safely and without causing environmental harm.
- Our dedication to quality, as well as our constant investment in technology and equipment, allows us to keep our technological edge.
- Quality, safety, and the environment are all important to us.
- Our capacity to tackle challenging technological challenges and the level of our technical skills.
- Our understanding of all the risks that come with a significant project and our ability to provide a complete risk management solution.

Our experts have an in-depth understanding of rock mass development and distribution mechanisms in a variety of geological and tectonic environments. Target generation, field mapping and analysis, remote sensing and geophysics, geochemistry, mineral system modeling, exploration project management, audits and evaluations, exploration strategy and governmental advice, health and safety guidance, and program implementation are just some of the exploration services we offer.

Resource Mining

Hi-Cube is involved in the exploration and mining of valuable earthly resources such as gold, lead, zinc, copper, and other metals in Nigeria. To ensure that we extract high-quality goods, we apply cutting-edge technological systems in our mining operation. We are in a top-tier class of mining enterprises because of our strategy and timely delivery of our commodities through a supply chain channel. Each process goes through a quality assurance step to guarantee that our clients, partners, and colleagues have faith in our work, products, and operational processes.

We recognize that the value we provide is critical to the nation's development and progress because the valuable mineral resources we extract play significant roles in numerous areas of the economy.

Real Estate and Property Development Services

Pre-Construction Services

Hi-Cube provides Pre-construction services to clients that have the financial capacity to construct but need a framework to assist them to reach their goals. And to also ensure realistic scheduling and constructability services. Our clients benefit from Hi-Cube's technical expertise and understanding in a variety of construction industries, including rigorous planning, open communication, and the use of the most up-to-date tools, technologies, and procedures to decrease project risk and find cost-cutting opportunities. We recognize the necessity of completing your project on time and on budget as your construction partner.

Building Construction

Exceptional quality finishing, high-quality materials, meticulous attention to detail, expert builders, cost-effectiveness, and time management are just a few of the benefits we provide during the construction process. Hi-Cube's building construction expertise is growing to become one of the best in the country, particularly in the areas of pre-construction, construction, and post-construction. From start to end, we have the proper skill set, resources, and technical collaboration to take on any project, regardless of its complexity. We use a distinct and technological approach to our services, resulting in remarkable, safe, functional, and economically viable building constructions. The strategy is intended to give our clients a comprehensive value-added service with little risk.

We develop houses, high-rises, duplexes, terraces, estates, commercial offices, shopping malls, medical facilities, schools, and just about any other sort of structure. We optimize procurement, construction management, bidding, pricing, and quality control procedures as seasoned specialists to ensure our clients get the most out of their investment. The management team and frontline staff at Hi'Cube are always researching and developing new methods and delivery systems to improve the company's building construction services. We think that when things change, there will be underlying opportunities that will help us expand and, in turn, assure client pleasure. Our first concern is the client. Because their vision is our aim, we go above and beyond to provide what is asked of us and even exceed their expectations. To do this, we collaborate with industry leaders and experts from numerous sectors to guarantee that the project is finished as quickly as feasible.

Renovation and Remodeling

Hi-Cube specializes in renovations and modifications for residential, commercial, and industrial properties. Space management, structural expansions, interior, and exterior remodeling, and construction management are just a few of the services we offer. A remodeling project may convert your living space into a more functional environment, or your office into a more productive and entirely efficient one that better matches your lifestyle. We realize how vital it is for you to have a well-functioning workplace or home. As a result, we collaborate closely with clients throughout the restoration and remodeling process to ensure that their vision is realized while staying within their financial constraints.

Commercial Brokerage

Hi-Cube is well-versed in a wide variety of services, including all aspects of commercial real estate brokerage. We are a group of professionals who operate on behalf of people, institutions, and businesses to buy, sell, or lease commercial real estate. Offices, residential estates, industrial, retail, land, hotels, and utility structures are among our specialties. We provide our clients with a unique perspective on innovative and lucrative sales and acquisition techniques. Our extensive market knowledge and expertise ensure that our customers get the most out of their real estate investments. We will give an understanding of how to position properties in the marketplace and provide the correct exposure for rent, lease, or sales using the same information. Our agents are experts in their respective submarkets and will provide crucial information for each client's success.

The company's thoroughness, attentiveness, and thoughtfulness are its defining characteristics. The advantage of having a smart and educated agency on your side is knowing you'll receive the best deals, have less stress during negotiations and have peace of mind that everything is done with the highest level of ethics, quality, and care.

Project Management

The aspects that makeup project management are effective preparation, planning, risk analysis and management, procurement, execution, quality control, contract management, and every process in construction. It is a broad field of expertise in which Hi-Cube professionals take on full or partial project management at the client's desire. Our construction consultants have the proven competence and ability to create seamless integration solutions for your project.

Whether you're an owner or a contractor, you'll have to deal with a variety of criteria at every stage of your project. No matter the size or location of your project, our project management service will offer you full monitoring, inspection, and commissioning services.

We can also provide you with vast building experience in various areas. As a consequence, we can assist you in reducing technical risks, preventing construction errors, managing budgets, and successfully keeping your construction project on track. Our construction management team consists of highly motivated and experienced personnel that have a track record of delivering complete project construction management for all stages of a project, resulting in the highest potential profit to the owners.

General Procurement and Supply Services

The hands-on approach of Hi-Cube procurement and supply services will transform your business procurement process by adding optimal value and increasing productivity. Hi-Cube has been able to foresee current market trends and exploit our position to obtain the best potential rates thanks to our strategic alliances. Our procurement department offers innovative solutions to everyone from wholesalers to end users by supplying high-quality materials that meet the budget. Through the deployment of a comprehensive approach to supply management, our technique provides exceptional efficiency. Our goal is to focus on our clients' demands, as well as our company's goals and objectives. Understanding their requirements aids in the establishment and assignment of the procurement, research, and contact order processes.
