ABOUT US

Our team at Hi-Cube Global Resources is aware that each customer has a unique set of challenges. Although no two projects are the same, the end goal is the same for all of us: better and quicker projects executed with more efficacy. We cultivate long-term relationships with our customers by listening to their concerns, sharing their aspirations, and helping them realize their full potential. We base our service delivery approach on a core set of resource management and tools, and we continually innovate, standardize, and automate to optimize efficiency for our clients and save them money and time.

We provide guidance and assistance to public and private sector customers in the execution of difficult, results-oriented initiatives, and we do so by establishing connections based on mutual respect, trust, and cooperation. Information technology, procurement management, project management, capacity building, general suppliers, and financial consultancy are only some of the services offered by Hi-Cube Global Resources.

Management maturity and resource management are specialties of our team of consultants, trainers, and specialists. With our unique combination of established methodologies and tailoring approaches, we can build and deliver solutions that are tailored to your requirements. For us, developing and combining unique tools and procedures based on your individual needs and objectives is more important than using conventional case studies.

An experienced and capable team makes up the backbone of our company, which is ready to tackle any project, no matter how large or little, at any stage in the process.

Safety - Employee safety is the responsibility of everyone in our company. Don't depart from your safety plan. Aim for an occurrence rate of 0%.

OUR SERVICES

Information Technology

A company's success is built on its ability to make sound decisions. The IT sector continues to confront substantial challenges in deciding on the best strategy and getting the finest technology consulting services to support internal operations.

Every IT consultancy business in the current fast-paced world wants to give its clients a competitive advantage. A large portion of their time is spent on technological advice services and staying abreast of new developments.

Rather than addressing the aforementioned fundamental obstacles that impede corporate productivity, most business consulting services concentrate on innovation and company strategy.

This is where Hi-Cube IT Advisory Services may assist.

Expert assistance backed by top-tier expertise and in tune with the ebb and flow of technical advancements is provided by Hi-Cube Global Resources' IT consultancy services.

Competent IT advising services and solutions may help you transform your business objectives into actual outcomes and soothe your fears about technology integration by putting in place good initiatives, a clear roadmap and quantifiable projects.

We also provide the procurement, installation and maintenance of computer and IT resources.

Procurement Management

Sourcing and Procurement Services are at the heart of what we do at Hi-Cube. Our supply chain services help firms save money and build better connections with their suppliers. With our wide range of services, we can help you save money on anything from category management to contract negotiation to strategic sourcing.

Hi-Cube Global Resources' major purpose is to assist firms in many industries to achieve significant savings in direct and indirect expenditure categories with unparalleled industry knowledge and a strong history of building procurement best practices and procedures. We're dedicated to helping our clients' supply chains run more smoothly, effectively, and sustainably by enhancing their responsiveness, flexibility, and reactivity.

It is vital to have a thorough understanding of the expenditure category to complete a sourcing assignment. Expertise in all aspects of category administration is available from our staff. Our experts have category-specific expertise in sectors including IT, Telecom, Marketing, Finance, HR, Freight/Logistics, MRO, Utilities, and many more.

In today's fast-paced environment, competitive advantage increasingly relies on becoming more agile, robust, and operationally efficient.

Using our innovative Procurement Management Services, multinational corporations can get more done for less money.

With our assistance, you'll be able to better manage expenditure and find areas where considerable savings may be realized by partnering with our procurement team.

OUR SERVICES

Project Management

The project management services provided by Hi-Cube Global Resources are tailored to meet the individual needs and limits of each client. All phases of a project's lifecycle, from conception to conclusion, are handled by our team members. The creation and maintenance of project milestones and the project timeline are of primary importance. In the end, the project must be completed on schedule and within the allocated budget.

Using our project management services, companies may meet their project goals and objectives while staying within the project's set parameters of scope, timeline, and budget. We can also assist in streamlining the process of allocating resources and integrating the many components necessary to meet the project's goals. To achieve a project's aims and objectives, it is essential to have a detailed strategy in place. Tasks and goals are also laid down in a project plan. Resources needed are also quantified.

With the support of our Project Managers, we can help you set a project budget and timetable. It's all a result of our hands-on approach. Working with us, you'll notice the difference.

The importance of effective communication in project management cannot be overstated. Each of a project's stakeholders should get regular updates via email or other means of communication. Keeping the lines of communication open during a project may save time and money in the long run.

OUR SERVICES

Capacity Building

Strengthening the ability of systems and stakeholders—individuals, communities, civil society, governments, and private companies—to achieve goals is what HI-Cube Global Resources calls "capacity development." It is important to remember that stakeholders are part of a dynamic system and that they have varying levels of capacity. When we engage with stakeholders, we aim to gain a thorough grasp of both the local systems and the culture and strengths of the organization to give assistance that is specific to their needs.

In our opinion, capacity development is an intentional, targeted process to enhance an organization's technical and organizational capacity by expanding the knowledge and skills of its workforce and supporting its processes, systems, and programs. These initiatives may assist a company in forming alliances, mobilizing resources, and achieving goals, as well as influencing other systems to change.

It doesn't matter how technical the program is or how much money it receives; our ultimate aim is to leave behind a better company. Hi-co-creation Cube's approach positions organizations and HI-Cube as equal partners; we support the development of highly contextualized action plans to build organizational and technical capacity; we provide customized technical assistance that meets partners where they are, and we constantly learn and adapt our capacity development interventions.

OUR SERVICES

HSE Training

At Hi-Cube Training Services, we take Health and Safety seriously, but that doesn't mean the learning process can't be fun. Our experienced and qualified instructors generate business results and compliance by making learning engaging and interactive.

With specialisms in the High Hazard sector – including oil and gas, occupational, process and fire safety – you'll know that we are committed to the highest standards, no matter what business sector we are involved with. The well-being of your workforce is paramount to the success of your organisation. That is why at Hi-Cube Training, we equip all trainees with the highest safety knowledge applicable to their role. Focused on the full Health, Safety and Environment (HSE) scope, we help companies reduce risk and increase safety performance through consultations, training and assessments. Our programs constitute preventative and response measures to deal with operational and business risks.

Additionally, our clients can rest easy knowing that we will help them correctly the first time thanks to our technical partnerships, rock-solid dependability, professional expertise, and affordable services.

General Supplies

Hi-Cube Global Resources offers supply and distribution services in Nigeria with partners in the engineering industry, Household appliances, health sectors, agro commodities, etc.

Upon request, we provide a wide range of products to both current and prospective clients. We want to make it possible for customers to submit us an estimate for the items they need and purchase or receive them from the convenience of their own homes or workplaces via our website, email, or SMS.

When it comes to purchasing a wide range of products, we know that many people and organizations struggle to find the right place to buy them because they don't know where to begin. Now that's where we can help.

To order any item or product, you only need to send us a message specifying the kind of item, quantity, time, and location, and we will get back to you in 24 hours.

A major part of our business involves negotiating and signing general contracts for the supply and distribution of finished goods (including finished goods and services, as well as materials and equipment), as well as for the provision of services and materials (including finished goods and services).

Financial Advisory & Consultancy

We provide a comprehensive range of financial consulting services based on our financial advisers' extensive expertise, unparalleled knowledge, and rigorous analytical abilities. It is our mission to assist businesses in making well-informed decisions that maximize their own worth, as well as guiding them through the implementation process. Having the appropriate financial counsel may offer you the confidence and peace of mind you need. Our team offers a wide range of advice services supported by hands-on assistance in dealing with the particular problems that every firm faces.

Businesses of all sizes, across all industries, and in every market face the challenge of controlling expenses. This may be disastrous for any organization. In order to guarantee that expenditure is maximized and that there are no leaks, Hi-cube employs a highly hands-on approach. Hi-Cube does this by thoroughly analyzing every facet of the business and comparing it to similar ventures and existing market data. Throughout the process, we keep tight tabs on all expenses and share that information with our clients.

A thorough investigation and study of the problem at hand, as well as the surrounding variables, is the foundation of our work. When it comes to investing, our consulting team looks for the best options, identifies potential pitfalls, and makes impartial suggestions. Step-by-step coaching is then offered to the company as they execute the solutions that were recommended.

Waste Management And Recycling

A complete waste management solution, including waste collection, treatment, recycling, and safe disposal, is provided by Hi-Cube Global Resources. Our primary goal is to offer a comprehensive range of waste management-related services to aid both private businesses and public sector organizations in lowering their waste and recycling costs. We collaborate closely with businesses looking to save time and money and provide a comprehensive approach to waste management.

Hi-Cube Global Resources can assist by taking over the duty of managing waste at your location. Our waste management solutions are intended to increase productivity, reduce costs, improve client relations, and safeguard the environment.

Our waste management solutions are made to offer the most economical and environmentally responsible ways to handle commercial and industrial waste, while also ensuring that your company complies with current legal requirements.

Our goal is to give your business the confidence to outsource waste management while giving you peace of mind that it has been handled ethically and efficiently. So you should speak with Hi-Cube Global Resources if you own a business and want to enhance your current waste management planning strategy. Managers should speak with us if they want to free up time and resources. More importantly, if your business wants to reduce waste and even make money from it, you need to contact Hi-Cube Global Resources. We can support the growth of your company.
